Development of the “whole” child. While the mainstream schools is obsessed with the “head”, we complement that with nurturing the “hand” and the “heart” of the child. For A tree reaches out in the sky only as much as its roots go deep in ground.

FOR PARENTS

Here, the parents connect with the “child” within them, and thereby with the child outside. Parents are free to accompany the child in all our workshops and even facilitate few ! Be a part of strong community of parents who are committed to their and their child’s lifelong inner growth,
